Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Forecast until 8 p. m. Sunday: For Kansas—Generally fair, preceded this afternoon by thunder showers in eastern portion; variable winds.

SENATOR CULL believes if the shoe pinches you should take it off.

It is about college commencement time that ministers find out that they need doctoring.

The inflated beds that the new aluminum sleeping cars are to have will give them an air of comfort.

The action of Senator Cull of Florida, in displaying his sky blue hosiery on top of his desk was quite an unusual feat.

The Ohio cigarette tax has been declared unconstitutional. Ohio judges don't believe in taxing the necessities of death.

ONE of the prominent Tammany bosses is Paddy Diver. It is probably a corruption of that old Tammany family, "Divvy."

ERASTUS WIMAN appears to have considered himself as necessary to Dun's agency as Grover Cleveland does to the United States.

SOUTHERN KANSAS has been visited by a generous downpour of rain, but the best part of it is that no one said anything about Jupiter Pluvius.

THE Suto tunnel in the Comstock range has been attached. Tunnels have always been considered by jokers as favorable places to display attachments.

WHEN Farmer Funston heard the report of the house committee on elections, he wished he had Superintendent Gaines' ability so he could do the matter justice.

AMERICAN WORKMEN would hardly have stood it to be driven back to work as the striking Lisbon bakers were but the Portuguese didn't mind it, they are bred that way.

CONGRESS seems determined that the American Indian shall become extinct, for the house has declared in favor of making him earn his own living as soon as possible.

FROM the ovation Col. Breckinridge received at Hinton, W. Va., yesterday it would appear to be a good political move to change his residence to that state and run for congress.

THE buying of stock by Senator McPherson's servant is likely to still further complicate the hired girl question. None of them will hereafter take work unless there is a ticker in the house.

IF Coxy gets to congress, as it seems not improbable now that he may, he should be assigned a seat beside some thin-skinned eastern member who took delight this spring in calling him hobo.

IT has been decided that Cleveland has power to order out troops in the different states. If he makes as great a success of it as he has of ordering out Republicans, the army might as well be preparing to move.

SENATOR SHERMAN's attention was called to the fact that he supported an income tax during the war, and opposes it now. Mr. Sherman may be justly proud of his long service in congress, but he realizes that it has its drawbacks.

KELLY is levying blackmail on the towns through which he passes by threatening to stay unless he gets what he demands. One town offered him $200 to move on, but he demanded $700. If he keeps on increasing his fund, by the time he gets to Washington the senate will be most ready to give him a respectful hearing.

ANOTHER indication that there will be fusion between the Populists and Democrats in this campaign is the announcement that the Dickinson county delegation to the Democratic state convention is to be headed by Sidney G. Cooke of Herington, and he has announced that he will make a fight for the endorsement of the Populist state ticket nominated at last week's convention. Cooke's announcement is more than enough to offset the statement that Senator Martin wants the coming convention to nominate a straight ticket and in the minds of the Populists who want fusion, this settles the matter. Cooke was recently elected by the lower house of congress to succeed Major E. N. Morrill as a member of the National Board of Managers of Soldiers Homes and in announcing his position for fusion he is no doubt intending to get even with Senator Martin who did not give him his influence for the appointment of pension agent.

BOULDER (COL.) CAMERA: Let us hope that in the event the women of Kansas secure equal suffrage with men they will not forget that the People's party was the first possessed of the courage and fairness to demand the right of women to vote. It remains to be seen whether the women of Colorado will remember that it was the People's party which gave them the power to vote—the right was always theirs, but it had been denied them by the Republican and Democratic parties.

GEO. W. MARTIN says in his Kansas City, Kansas, Gazette: "Only a few men can aspire to public places. The great mass of the people have to stay at home and pay the bills. There are many that might be put forward. Then why should one that has made a reputation for dirt only be eternally and forever world without end kept in place that he may make more dirt? We never realize the importance and interest there is in the idea of a new crowd, until we canvassed the state last spring and met in various towns the brightest and cleanest looking lot of young fellows, doing local politics, who might be advanced to the front. We must have new blood, at all events we must have clean blood. We must have men on the ticket that people can support with some enthusiasm. We have no time for apologies or explanations. The Republican editors must be in position where they will not be called on to stultify themselves every issue of their paper. No party can carry such a nomination as William J. Buchanan for congressman after the reputation he has made in the state senate."

THE MAN OF THURMS.

James M. Barrie is a Writer With a Style of His Own.

"A man with a style of his own" is the way Louise Chandler Moulton characterized James Matthew Barrie, the young novelist whose pictures of Scotch life and character have given him world-wide fame. The characterization is true enough, but it is not to his original literary style that Mr. Barrie owes his wonderful popularity. It is to the graphic, quaintly humorous and fondly reminiscent descriptions and masterly delineations of character contained in "Auld Licht Idylls," "A Window in Thrams" and "The Little Minister," which have preserved in forms of genius the beautiful idealization of the life of a community almost extinct and dying hard.

No man should know the people of the Auld Licht kirk better than J. M. Barrie, for he was born among them in that town of Kerriemuir, in Forfarshire, which he has idealized as "Thrams," on May 9, 1860. He graduated at Edinburgh university in 1882. He had done some literary work at college and naturally gravitated to journalism. He went to Nottingham and took a place on the staff of The Journal, where he performed back work for three years and then went to London.

During the last month of his stay in Nottingham he sent articles to London newspapers. The first to be accepted was one on the making of penny dreadfuls, which Mr. Stead printed in the Pall Mall Gazette. He sent his first Auld Licht sketch to Mr. Greenwood of the St. James Gazette, who published it in November, 1884. To M. Greenwood Barrie dedicated "Auld Licht Idylls."

Barrie established himself in London early in 1885. He contributed to The Gazette and to The Anti-Jacobin during his short life. Some of his articles had been reprinted in "My Lady Nicotine." "Better Dead" was published in the winter of 1887. "When a Man's Single" was published in the September of 1888, and in the following May "A Window in Thrams" appeared. "A Window in Thrams" gave Barrie a place in literature.

The world "discovered" a new literary light and did not hesitate to do him homage. Since then Barrie has published a number of books, each one of which has been very successful and very profitable. In person Mr. Barrie is slight and though of delicate physique is not delicate, but is a great lover of games and out of door sports. He is very modest and dislikes to be lionized by the literary pharisees of London.

HASTINGS AND LYON.

They Head the Republican State Ticket of Pennsylvania.

General Daniel Hartman Hastings, who has been nominated by the Republicans for governor of Pennsylvania, is one of the best known men in the commonwealth, having long been prominent in politics and in the state militia. He was born in Clinton county Feb. 26, 1849. He was educated in the public schools and began teaching school at an early age. When only 18, he was elected principal of the Bellefonte high school and held that position for eight years, varying his duties a part of the time by acting as assistant editor of the Bellefonte Republican. At the same time he studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1875. General Hastings enlisted in the national guard in 1877. He received rapid promotion and in 1884 was elected colonel of the Fifth regiment. He resigned his commission as colonel in 1887 to accept the office of adjutant general, to which he was appointed by Governor Beaver. General Hastings was in command of the relief corps at Johnstown after the great floods of 1889, and his services there are well remembered. He was an unsuccessful candidate for the gubernatorial nomination before the Republican state convention of 1890, which chose George W. Delamater.

Walter Lyon, candidate for lieutenant governor on the ticket with General Hastings, is an Alleghany lawyer and was born in that county 41 years ago. He was admitted to the bar in 1877 and has been in active practice ever since. He has always been interested in politics and has been a delegate to Republican state conventions ever since 1881. He was temporary chairman of the conventions of 1887 and 1889 and permanent chairman of the 1890 convention. In 1889 Mr. Lyon was appointed United States attorney for the western district of Pennsylvania and resigned the office in 1893 to take a seat in the state senate.

MASONIC.

A National Home For Consumptives Proposed—Trestleboard Designs.

As a recent special meeting of Montezuma lodge, Santa Fe, a movement was inaugurated which promises to be of inestimable benefit to suffering humanity. With the consent of the grand master of the grand jurisdiction of New Mexico a resolution was adopted setting forth the fact that the death rate from consumption is increasing at an alarming rate all over the world; that the benefits of climatic cure are now universally recognized by physicians; that the most perfect climate is found at Santa Fe and inviting the Masons of the United States and Canada to co-operate with Montezuma lodge in the erection in Santa Fe of a national home for consumptives, to be governed and maintained by Masons for benevolent and charitable purposes.

In England the increase of lodges never ceases. The number now exceeds 2,600.

A poet proclaims that truth is a king who is greater than Solomon and whose master building is the temple of humanity. God is truth, and he is that King.

The Masons of Ohio are endeavoring to raise the requisite fund to erect a monument to the memory of the late Rev. Lafayette Van Cleave, grand chaplain.

Charity is the chief of every social virtue and the distinguishing characteristic of Masons.

You must consult your health by not continuing together too late or too long from your home after lodge hours are past, and by the avoidance of gluttony or drunkenness, that your families be not neglected or injured nor you disabled from working.—Old Masonic Charges.

Masonic bodies have always been noted for dignified decorum, where smoking is never permitted, save in the ante-room, but lately the loose influence of some free and easy societies to which many Masons belong for beneficiary reasons is becoming apparent.

Bro. Charles Carroll Hayes is grand master of Masons in New Hampshire, and Comp. W. H. W. Hinds is grand high priest.

A convention of royal and select masters of Illinois will be held at Bloomington on July 12 and 13.

Under "Ancient Masonry" is understood the history of the craft before and under "Modern Masonry" the history of the craft after the era of the grand lodges, the line of demarcation being drawn at the year 1717.

The greatest American Mason, Albert Pike, made a true but startling statement, confirmed by Holy Writ, however, when he said, "Evil is merely apparent, and all in reality is good and perfect."

The language of Masonry is known all over the world. No matter what the tongue of the nation may be, its peculiar dialect is recognized.

The order furnishes the members a physician and medicine free and pays a weekly sick benefit, a funeral benefit and a benefit on the death of a member's wife.

CAN BE RELIED UPON.

When you start out on a Columbia, you come home on it.

The fact that it is impossible to ascertain the quality of a bicycle by a casual examination should be a sufficient reason for buying a wheel with a reputation.

There is no wheel that has been before the public so long, none that stands or ever stood so high, none so well guaranteed, none whose guarantee is so substantial and so liberally interpreted, none so safe to buy as a Columbia.

With Columbias listed at $125, few riders will be so unwise as to invest in lower grade bicycles.
